---

When it is morning, think that thou mayest not live till the evening; and in the evening, presume not to promise, thyself, another morning. Be therefore always ready; and so live that death may not confound thee at its summons.

The sweetest consolation taken to the grave is the thought of having been an irreproachable wife and mother, a true friend who leaves for us an inheritance of Christian virtues.

Beloved husband, death separates us now but once we will live forever with Christ. My dear children, forget not the law of God, let your heart receive his words Keep his commandments and you shall live.

The only thing I ask of you is to remember me in your prayers.

Sweet heart of Mary, be my refuge.
300 days indulgence.

MY JESUS, MERCY!
